👤 PROFILE

With over 10 years of experience as a Senior Web Developer, I've built a career around mastering a wide range of technologies and platforms, including Vue.js, React.js, AWS, Azure, PHP, Ruby on Rails, and Firebase. I'm passionate about what I do and committed to delivering efficient, scalable solutions for each project. I also enjoy advising companies on their software development initiatives, helping them align technical decisions with business goals. Learning new tools, methodologies, and techniques is key to my approach—staying up-to-date lets me bring the latest innovations to both my personal projects and client work, ensuring high-impact results every time.
